Section III:

NATURE OF REQUEST – type of services needed: The following four pages elaborate upon 4 master categories (# A thru D) containing 20 different subcategories (# 1 thru # 20) encompassing all of the possible products and services that make up the global Halal industry, with included examples. Muslim consumers and markets look for products and services in these categories to be Halal certified by a reputable Halal certification body, such as ours, before utilizing their growing spending power on them. Choose from the below left-hand column your category of product(s) or service(s) that you wish to have inspected and Halal certified in order for them to be eligible for sales to Muslim consumers in the United States, and Muslim consumers in Muslim and non-Muslim countries abroad. In the right-hand column, indicate the category or categories you are operating in and provide your own brief description of your products and/or services. You do not need to provide a comprehensive list of every product or service you create or provide at this point. In this specific section, you DO NOT need to place “N/A” in every category box that doesn’t apply to your company. Just leave them blank if they do not apply to your products, services, processes, and/or facilities.

A) Categories Dealing with Food Products of Animal Origin

1) Halal Certification of Slaughterhouses/Packing Plants (abattoirs) and Finished Raw Meat/Offal Products (bovine animals incl. steers, veal, and wagyu; poultry incl. chickens, turkey, ducks, and geese; deer; bison; camels; sheep; goats.) Includes all subsequent derived products of slaughtering process. This includes non-edible products sold by the packer (bones, bone chips, bone meal, hides, etc.)
2) Halal Certification of Further Processed Meat/Poultry Products (ground products, value-added, portion-controlled, cooked, breaded, smoked, injected, spiced, marinated, and all other processes) and the facilities in which they are produced. This also includes prepared frozen meals/dinners that are derived from or contain meat AND any shelf-stable meat items (frozen pizzas; canned and packaged meat and poultry; jerky &amp; other meat snacks; stocks, bases, bouillon, animal-derived broths, glaze, &amp; gravies; sauces containing meat; etc.)
3) Halal Certification of Animal Feed or Feed Ingredients (animal feed, fish feed, tallow, pet food, etc.) and the facilities in which they are processed
4) Halal Certification of Seafood incl. fresh and saltwater fish, shellfish, crustaceans, seaweed, etc. (raw, further processed, seasoned, or fully cooked, canned, fresh or frozen; canned or packaged tuna or other fish; dried seaweed; shrimp, oysters; etc.) and the facilities in which they are processed
5) Halal Certification of other animal derived food products: Eggs, cooking fats and animal shortenings, whey proteins, and any and all dairy products (incl. all cheeses, ice creams, butter, coffee creamer, chocolate milk, whipped cream, sour cream, cream cheese, yogurt incl. yogurt beverages and flavored yogurt, other dairy-based drinks, etc.) and the facilities in which they are processed

If dealing with animal products resulting directly from slaughtering and packing processes, such as raw meat cuts or whole birds and poultry parts, trim, and/or offal, simply list each species of animal harvested in your facility rather than all of the possible product derivations from that animal. For example, if you are only applying for Halal certification of a packing plant where steers are harvested or you are merely purchasing and exporting such products, simply indicate this rather than spelling out in detail every single type of possible product that the plant packs.

Section V:

FURTHER REQUIRED INFORMATION REGARDING YOUR HISTORY, FACILITIES, AND PROCESSES

IMPORTANT DEFINITION: FOR THE PURPOSES OF HALAL RELIGIOUS CERTIFICATION: The word “pork” and the term “porcine” refers to “pigs, swine, boars, and/or hogs” and ANY OTHER animals that fall within the scientific classification of the Family “Suidae” and any of its constituent Subfamilies, Tribes, Genuses, Species, and Subspecies. It also refers to their DNA, their blood, their flesh, their hides, their bones, and ALL OTHER raw materials and products derived from their slaughter and processing. Ingredients and processing aids derived from them, proteins and enzymes derived from them, feed that has ingredients derived from them, genetically-modified microbes modified with their DNA, AND even microbes grown in growth media that contains ingredients derived from them are all considered to be “porcine” or of “porcine origin”. Any and all possible conceivable products, additives, medicines, or anything else (even something like hair brushes made with boar hair) are considered to be “porcine” and of “porcine origin” with regards to Halal certification. It is extremely critical that you provide honest information, especially with regards to this. The importance and sensitivity of this with regards to Halal production and Muslim consumers cannot be stressed enough.

01) If you are requesting certification of processing facilities and processed meat/poultry products, please provide the sources of raw meat/poultry that are used in the processing. You can simply list the companies from which you purchase your meat/poultry for purposes of processing (whether slaughterhouses or distributors). If you do not wish to provide this information at this time, that is fine. You WILL BE REQUIRED to do so at a later point, prior to certification being granted.

02) Specifically regarding processing operations: do you utilize animals that were hunted? If so, what species of animal and what form of hunting (arrows, guns, traps, etc.)?

03) In the case of slaughterhouses (abattoirs): What method of stunning, if any, is utilized? Do the animals/birds only experience a loss of consciousness or are they stunned to kill? (Please specify details)

04) In the case of poultry slaughtering, specifically: Is mechanical slaughter utilized in your facilities or does your company run a hand-slaughter operation? Your destination market will impact the significance of your answer.

05) If your facility is a slaughtering facility (abattoir) of bovine animals or lamb, goat, bison, camel, etc., do you utilize a box or a rotating box in the slaughter process?

06) In the case of slaughterhouses (abattoirs) of ANY species, do you accept downers (animals/birds that are sick, injured, or dead-on-arrival)? Do you have the ability to prove that your facilities do not accept downers?

Be advised that questions #07, #08, & #09 DO NOT refer to overall company-wide production, but specifically to production occurring in the same facilities in which you wish to produce Halal products.

07) Do the facilities which you wish to have Halal certified also slaughter AND/OR process any pork or porcine (pig/swine/boar/hog) products? Do these facilities process or utilize, or does any of your machinery or equipment ever come into contact with, any porcine-derived ingredients, porcine-derived processing aids, OR porcine-derived enzymes, proteins, or genetically-modified microbes that have been modified with porcine DNA or microbes that were grown in a broth or other growth medium that has ingredients of a porcine origin?

08) If you answered yes to the above question, does your facility have the capacity to permanently segregate the pork or porcine products or ingredients to different rooms from non-pork or non-porcine products or ingredients? Furthermore, does your facility have the capacity to dedicate processing machines, equipment, and knives as permanently off-limits to pork or porcine products or ingredients?

09) If your facilities do process pork or products that somehow involve pork, ingredients of porcine origin, or processing aids of porcine origin, please provide an estimate of what percentage of your annual production is made up of these products.

10) In the case of slaughterhouses, do you have the ability to provide documented evidence regarding the nature of the feed that your animals/birds were raised on? Can you provide this documented evidence to HTO assessors on request? The importance of this issue will depend on the destination country for your products.

11) Do your facilities use Alcohol/Ethanol in the production process and/or is it present as a component of the final product? If so, what is the highest concentration of alcohol/ethanol in the products during processing and what is the concentration of alcohol/ethanol in the final product? Are these numbers just estimates or have they been scientifically confirmed by laboratory analysis via an independent, third-party, ISO-accredited lab?

Highest Concentration During Processing:	Concentration in Final Product:	Independent, ISO Accredited Laboratory Analysis Has Proven These Numbers?  YES _____ NO _____

12) Do your facilities utilize ANY products, ingredients, or processing aids that are products OR byproducts of any segment of the alcoholic beverages (beer, wine, spirits, etc.) industry? Explain.

	Is It Current or Expired?

17) Are your facilities, processes, and/or products currently Kosher certified? Which Kosher organization currently certifies you?

18) Are your facilities, products, services, and/or processes carrying some other kind of certification or claims at the moment? For example: organic, natural, non-GMO, veggie feed, antibiotic-free, hormone-free, vegan, free range, fair trade, all natural, grass fed, etc. List them here.

19) Is your company and any products, processes, services, and/or facilities currently certified under a Halal scheme from another Halal Certification Body (or bodies)? What is (are) the name(s) of that Halal certification body (or bodies)?

20) Sharing certification duties and responsibilities with another Halal certification body is risky for both certifiers and can result in a mixing or confusion of duties, as well as the blame and consequences from authorities for a hypothetical dereliction of duties being placed on the wrong party. If you answered YES to the above question (#19), and your facilities are STILL Halal certified by another Halal certification body, are you willing to pass all of the responsibility of Halal certification for your facilities to HTO? If not, please explain why.

Note: This MAY be a requirement, depending on your target markets. Otherwise, it is very strongly encouraged.

21) Has your company and any products, processes, services, and/or facilities ever been previously Halal certified by any other Halal certification body in the past (besides HTO)? What was the name(s) of that Halal certification body (or bodies)? When did your certification cease AND why is your certification no longer active? Was it revoked by your previous Halal certifier or did your company voluntarily end your Halal program? Please provide an explanation of either scenario.

22) Has your company ever previously applied for Halal certification with HTO in any form at any time in the past and been rejected? If so, when did you last apply for Halal certification with HTO? Were you given a reason for rejection at that time? What was the reason(s) given for your rejection at that time?

23) Has your company and any products, processes, services, and/or facilities previously been certified by our Halal certification organization? How long ago was it since this Halal certification expired or was terminated?

24) Has your company and any products, processes, services, and/or facilities ever been delisted (had your Halal certification terminated/revoked) at any point in the past by HTO OR by any other Halal certification body for a violation of Halal requirements? What were the reasons you were given for the de-certification?

25) Does your company currently utilize any form of unaffiliated third-party certified laboratory testing in order to detect contaminants in your products? Name the lab(s). Has your company ever utilized this or another third-party laboratory to conduct species testing for DNA contamination from pork or porcine materials of pig or porcine (swine) origin? Do you know the actual name of the testing method utilized? Likewise, has your company ever utilized any third-party laboratory to conduct alcohol content in your ingredients and finished products?

Third-Party ISO (or equivalent) Certified Lab Name(s):

Species tested for and testing method (if known) (i.e., PCR):

26) Have any of your products ever been found to be contaminated with the proteins or DNA of another species, specifically pork (swine)? If so, have you had to issue a recall for your products based on these grounds? How many times has this happened?

Contaminated? AND with What?:	Issued recall?:	Number of recalls of this nature:

27) Does your company regularly conduct mock recalls (at least once annually)?

28) Have any of your products, brand names, processes, services, or facilities been banned, delisted, or otherwise obtained a negative reputation in any country (including within the United States) or with any governmental organization? Name the countries and very briefly explain the circumstances here.

29) What are the standards and schemes that you are looking to certify the products, processes, services, and/or facilities against? In other words, is there a specific set of published international Halal standards your company is specifically looking to be certified against (for example GSO 2055-1, GSO 2055-4, GSO 993, HAS, OIC/SMIIC 1:2011, etc.)? Or are you simply looking to become Halal certified in the general sense of the word? If you don't know the answer, or are unsure, that is not a problem. Simply indicate that below:

30) How knowledgeable would you say you and your company currently are regarding Halal guidelines? To the best of your knowledge, do your products, processes, and/or facilities violate Halal or Islamic rules? If you do not know the answer to this question that is fine, simply indicate that below:

31) Have you been given any breakdown of the Halal audit and certification fee structure at this point?
